Five Pines is a timber lodge set in woodland on our farm in the Surrey Hills, an area of outstanding natural beauty. The lodge has a kitchen, bathroom, sitting/dining room and bedroom, sleeping 2 in a double bed.

It has recently been renovated and is equipped and furnished in contemporary minimalist style, with the emphasis on natural wood. A door leads from the kitchen onto a west facing verandah equipped with table and chairs for outdoor eating in the summer.

In the case of extended stays there is a phone line that can be connected if required. Heating is by electric convection heaters and there is double glazing throughout. Parking is adjacent to the farmyard, from where there is an 80 metre walk up a track through the wood, where the lodge is situated in a clearing.
